

The Zurich Corpus of Vowel and Voice Quality
Version 1.0 and 2.0

Terms of Use

24-09-2023

The sounds can be played back via a player in the online database. However, you need a login for the display of the player.

The database and the recordings can be downloaded. The download consists of the database information in TXT format and the recordings in WAV format. However, you need a login for the download functionality.

If you want to get a login for the player display or the full database, the following restrictions apply:

- The use of the database is limited to scientific purposes only.
- The identity and affiliation of the user(s) must be identifiable.
- The subject and time period of investigation must be declared.
- The options (a) display of the player and download functionality of single sounds, or (b) download functionality of the entire database must be specified.
- All downloaded sound files must be deleted after completion of the investigation and the deletion must be confirmed by email.
- Any publication of investigation results must be in the form of open access.
- Any publication of investigation results must include a reference to the corpus (citation form, see the title page of this website).

For a login or a download request, please write an email to: dieter.maurer@zhdk.ch. Please indicate:

- Your name(s) and affiliation(s)
- Subject and time period of investigation
- An agreement to the above conditions
